

WINTER 2017/18 THEATRE SCHOOL

February 3rd - May 5th, 2018

EXPLORATION AND CREATION: MUSICAL THEATRE FOR YOUNG PERFORMERS

SATURDAYS 2pm - 4pm, Ages 7-11 COST: $275

Gain confidence in dance, music, and acting with industry professionals. In this new 13 week class, students will learn about storytelling by rehearsing numbers from contemporary musicals and creating their own unique characters. This class will prepare students to shine in their school shows and other extracurricular activities. Tuition also includes a free ticket to our spring show, Peter and the Starcatcher, where students will get to see those skills in action, followed by a post-show discussion with professional artists.

PRIVATE LESSONS WEEKLY Starting at age 10

Theatre Horizon offers private lessons in acting and voice. Through personalized curriculum and instruction, private lessons allow a student to focus on improving their skills and confidence, beyond what is possible in a group class setting. Theatre Horizon's goal is to encourage students to reach their potential both as performers and in their everyday lives.

Do you know about our AUTISM DRAMA PROGRAM?

We inspire imagination and social development in individuals on the autism spectrum. Capitalizing on the strengths and interests of participants, our classes encourage interpersonal relationships, verbal expression, flexible thinking, and a sense of self-worth and accomplishment.

For more information, visit our website at www.theatrehorizon.org or contact Angela Coleman, Director of Theater School and Community Programs, at angela@theatrehorizon.org or call (610) 283-2230 x 2