

FLEXIBLE INSTRUCTION DAYS

Things to know for parents and guardians

What is a Flexible Instruction Day (FID)?

A Flexible Instruction Day is an alternate approach to the delivery of instruction when circumstances arise that prevent instruction in the customary manner. Methacton School District's FID plan has been submitted and approved by the Pennsylvania Department of Education (PDE).

Example: Districtwide inclement weather closing or local emergency.

Announcement via SchoolMessenger Alert
(email, phone call, text message)
stating use of "Flexible Instruction Day"

Expectations of Staff

For pending inclement weather, provide students with hard copy assignments in advance, when possible.

Encourage students to take home school-issued device.

Post lesson in Google Classroom by the start of the student day.

Post and hold office hours, 30 minutes in the morning and 30 minutes in the afternoon..

Reply to emails.

Provide IEP and 504 Supports as required.
Submit attendance based on work submission.

Expectations of Students

Complete and submit assignments posted in Google Classroom. (Those without access many complete hard copy assignments.)

Attend office hours and/or email teacher as needed.

All assigned work must be completed that day and turned in within three (3) school days following the FID.

Students who do not complete work will be marked as absent according to the attendance policy.
