"The quality of the program is excellent. I feel so safe having my child attend. She absolutely loves the activities. The staff are excellent with the kids and provide a very positive environment."

– Eagleville YMCA Parent

This program helps fill a gap for working families by keeping kids safe when not in school. Through a combination of recreational and mentor-led activities, we are able to complement what kids are already learning in the classroom. School-age kids balance learning and fun while developing social skills and engaging with positive adult role models.
